I have no one greater than the Supreme Buddha.
I have nothing greater than the Supreme Dhamma.
I have no friends greater than the Supreme Sangha.
I have nothing greater than the Triple Gem.

As I wake up in the morning and as I go to sleep at night;
as I walk about throughout the day, and as I read and write;
I keep in mind my Supreme Buddha, the perfect Dhamma and the Noble Sangha.
I will always remember the Triple Gem.

Through actions pure and concentration of mind supreme, the Blessed One's great wisdom shines like the sun and moon.
With boundless compassion for all three worlds, Supreme Buddha is a father to us all.
In veneration of these most noble qualities, I bow down,
with love and respect,
to worship my great Teacher.

I learn well, the excellent Teaching, taught by the Supreme Buddha.
It leads to my welfare, produces real happiness and shows me the path to a wholesome life.
Through this teaching, I will conquer all worlds.

Using my efforts and wisdom with the blessings of the Triple Gem,
as an obedient son and daughter, I practice patience.
Defeating all obstacles, I go forward and reach the perfection of life.

I harbor no jealousy, nor anger, nor arrogance.
Devoid of a selfish mind,
I consider not only my welfare,
but the welfare of all.

May the noble monks, my noble friends, attain the Supreme goal;
may my parents and family members be well and happy.
Having learned of fruitful deeds and understood what is wholesome,
may I have the fortune to be a true Noble son and daughter.
